Colleges and Conversations: Share American College Life with an Algerian!

Project Title	Colleges and Conversations: Share American College Life with an Algerian!
Summary	Share your experience as an American college student to an attentive Algerian audience thirsty for knowledge about studying in the United States and learning the English language.
Country	Algeria

Project Description

The U.S. Embassy in Algiers seeks one Education and English Outreach intern to assist in conducting digital outreach to Algerians interested in improving their English language ability and/or studying at a U.S. university. The intern will work with the Public Affairs Section and EducationUSA to develop original outreach materials, including email newsletters, graphics, and digital videos. The intern will also organize presentations by U.S. universities, including virtual college fairs, and lead sessions to improve Algerians' understanding of cover letters, essays and other college application materials. Interns may be assigned both long-term projects and short-term assignments that address specific program needs, including reviewing university application materials and starring and producing their own videos for social media. Arabic or French language skills are strongly preferred, but not required.
